articles in the cargoes are perishable, and take the ground that the British government should pay the invoice price for them, as it has done for copper, since the cargoes were at sea before Great Britain declared foodstuffs consigned "to order" contraband. The packers' representatives insist that their trade with Denmark has been large at all times, and maintain that the British government is wrong in assuming that foodstuffs destined for neutral European countries are intended for Germany.

London, Jan. 12.—A Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that the Danish Prime Minister, C. Th. Zahle, has introduced a bill in the Second Chamber greatly increasing the penalties for violation of the export bill with respect to contraband.

died on Sunday at the Hotel Florence, 165 West 34th st. He was born in Cologue, Germany, in 1824.

His family controlled the starch industry on the Rhine, and when he was ifteen years old he came to this country with two brothers, and they started a starch factory in Jamaica, Long Island. They brought $100,000 in gold for the purpose. During the Civil War Henry Seligman went into Wall Street as a banker. The panic of 1873 embarrassed his firm, which was forced to suspend for several years.

In 1891 he became associated with General Charles C. Dodge in the promotion of the Long Beach Hotel Association and later the General Electric Company. About the same time he and Maximillan Kahn formed the banking firm of Henry Seligman & Co. to assist General Dodge in financing the Cape Cod ship canal, completed last year by Belmont interests. He retired from active business two years ago.
